

Support Our Retired Priests

There is a rapidly increasing need for support for our sick and retired priests.

The Diocese of Phoenix established the Regina Cleri Fund for Priests with the hope of establishing a retirement home to ensure all priests can receive decent accommodations and support in their retirement years.

Most of our diocesan priests work long into their seventies, caring for the spiritual needs and welfare of their people. Even in their retirement years our priests still dedicate their lives to offering the Sacraments for the people of God until they are no longer physically able to do so.

Thank you for helping care for our retired priests in their time of need.

The ability to make online contributions is Coming Soon! In the meantime please make checks payable to:
