

Catholic Campaign for Human Development

Local Impact Report

Each year the Diocese of Phoenix participates in the Catholic Campaign for Human Development collection. 25% of this collection stays in the Diocese of Phoenix to support local non-profits working towards justice based solutions in marginalized communities. Below is the report for the 2025 local grant.

$28,800
across 5 non-profits in 2025

$2,400 towards community engagement

$12,800
enhanced leadership development

The Native American Fatherhood and Families Association (NAFFA) successfully launched the Transforming Tomorrow Youth Advisory Council and provides mentoring and training support for council members. This council focuses on mental health awareness, cultural engagement activities, peer support, and more among Native American youth.

$1,199 supported financial literacy classes

$2,082
granted for workforce
development

With the support of this grant, Gervonni Cares, Inc. was able to successfully continue their Stuck in the Middle (SIM) Workforce Development program. They supported 72 people with skill-building, access to technology, workforce readiness, and more. This development helped people obtain new jobs, advance their career, or return to school to further their education.

$2,600 helped plant urban gardens in low-income schools

$4,000
supported English as a Second Language classes

Santa Teresita parish hosted ESL classes for parishioners and local community members. This grant helped cover materials for these classes, previously designed and purchased by volunteer teachers. The impact of these classes goes beyond education into community building, parishioner growth, and financial relief for students.
